WASHINGTON, June 26.—
Senator Chamberlain announced today that it is proposed to call in August 300,000 draft men, in September 150,000, in October 150,000,
in November 150,000, and in December 125,000. These 825,000 men, he said, are expected to exhaust class one.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—At the meeting of the Senate military committee today, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska gave figures stating that in August, when the final call of men in class one will have exhausted that class, there will be 3,300,000 men in the army and that the highest estimates of the number of American troops which will be in France
by that time is 1,450,000.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Secretary of War Baker and Major-General March, chief of staff, informed the Senate military committee today that they opposed as premature and unnecessary the proposed extension of the army draft age limit.
Provost Marshal-General Crowder, whose approval of the extension has been cited by advocates of the change in the Senate, also appeared before the committee to say that while he was not insistent upon immediate legislation, he thought action should be taken in time to secure new regiments under the revised age limits early next year.

COMMITTEE DECIDES TO OPPOSE ANY CHANGE
After Baker and March had opposed revision of draft age limits and stated that within sixty or ninety days
the war department would submit to Congress a new and enlarged army program, the committee decided to oppose any legislation to change the draft age.

No definite figures on the enlarged program were presented. It is impossible at present, the officials said,
to give any accurate estimates, but the government proposes to exert its maximum power in the war.
Studies are being made of the problems of training, clothing, transporting and feeding men, all of which are to be covered in detail in the army bill to call as many men to the colors
as can be trained, equipped and transported.
Baker, March and Crowder, it was stated, opposed the amendment by Senator Johnson of California, proposing that in future draft calls states which have already furnished by voluntary enlistments an excess of their quotas shall be given credit for such excess. Senator Johnson was satisfied with the statement that the present system without credits is fairest and planned not to press his amendment.

In asking that the draft legislation be acted for at present, Baker and March said that within sixty or ninety days, probably about the middle of August, after the proposed recess of Congress, the administration will submit a new comprehensive army program, covering not only the number of men it is proposed to raise, but also dealing with shipping and other problems.

124,325 SELECTED MEN.

U.S. Troops Take 221 Huns Many Guns Also Captured

(By Associated Press)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 26.—In an attack upon the German lines on the Marne front last night, the American troops extended their line northwest of Belleu Wood. Up to 10 o'clock this morning 221 prisoners had been counted, together with a number of machine guns and other booty. Additional prisoners are coming in.

The raid Monday morning in which two companies of French and American troops near Badonviller lost prisoners was made by an entire battalion of German troops. The enemy advanced in two columns after the way had been prepared by a heavy bombardment with gas shells.

The official statement issued in Berlin said: "The number of American and French prisoners brought in yesterday morning east of Badonviller has increased to more than sixty."

Details are now available of the German raid on the American lines
north of Baccarat Sunday night.
The Germans laid down two heavy box barrages, completely surrounding two Franco-American outpos-itions; simultaneously enemy planes bombed Badonviller and Neuviller, to the north.

During the barrage two groups of German infantry, each numbering more than 150, attacked the French and Americans who had been cut off in one of the positions the Americans failed to give a foot, although they were outnumbered three to one.
They fought until practically every man was killed or wounded. The Americans, however, received wounds that will incapacitate them only temporarily.

The other group of Boches penetrated a village and took a few French and American prisoners. They fled before a counter-attack.
On the Toul front the Germans are heavily bombarding the American positions, throwing large quantities of gas into Bois de Jury, Bois de Remiers and other sectors.

WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE MARNE, June 26.—The Americans took the remainder of Belleu wood last night. The German losses in killed and wounded were very heavy.
They also lost at least 221 prisoners, including a captain and six other officers. The Americans captured many machine guns.

In this action the Americans further flattened the apex of the German drive toward Paris. They now completely hold the wood, the northern end of which has been in dispute since the Americans first halted the German rush three weeks ago.

The Germans desperately sought to retain the advantage of holding the wood, without which a movement toward the Meaux is impossible. They literally crowded their part of the forest with machine guns. Our success resulted from heavy shelling all day Tuesday, which was followed by an attack at 5 p. m. An hour and a half later the enemy was reported as attempting to leave the woods.
They were swept by machine gunfire,
many fighting to the death, others
being captured.

The fighting was most desperate, lasting till midnight, when the Americans, aided by German prisoners, had dug in to maintain their gains and an American unit in the open on the right had forced its way as far north as the point of the woods, completely straightening the line.

GERMANS ARE DRIVEN FROM STRONGHOLDS

The Germans, with the exception of one captain, who knew before we did that we had him surrounded, fought until they were driven from their strongholds by hand-grenades or bayonets. They reserved their rifle and machine gunfire until the Americans closed in.

German losses in dead and wounded were heavy, while our losses were not disproportionate to the success obtained.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 26.—An American unit has taken over a new sector in German Alsace, it is now permissible to announce. Already it has repelled several minor German raids.

This new sector is in the vicinity of Gebweiler. The line runs through an extremely rugged territory of mountains, deep ravines and dense forests. It is the third sector taken over by the Americans in Alsace and the second in German territory.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 26.—An entire German battalion participated in yesterday morning's raid near Badonviller against two Franco-American companies that were holding strong points. The attack followed a violent bombardment.

The Germans were split up into two parties. Each group appeared to outnumber the allied forces, but, despite this fact, German prisoners were taken and casualties inflicted upon

KUEHLMANN PEACE TALK RECEIVED IN GRIM MOOD

Spirit of Pessimism and Complete Absence of Enthusiasm Is Accorded Address of German Chancellor by Reichstag

WANTS OF GERMANY
CLEARLY STATED

Neutral Leaders Expected to Seize on Speeches of Kuehlmann and Balfour as Excuse for Proposing Peace Parley

AMSTERDAM, June 26.—There was a complete absence of enthusiasm, both by the speaker and the audience, during Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann's speech in the Reichstag, according to a Berlin despatch to the Handelsblad.

"A spirit of pessimism and grim resolution" pervaded the house, the despatch said. Most of the speech was heard in silence.
Chancellor von Hertling made a brief address, in which he said that when he recently spoke concerning peace it was regarded by the allies as a symptom of weakness and a "crafty trap," the same despatch said. When he spoke of Germany's "unshakable will," he was accused of voicing German militarism, he said.

There will be no further discussion of President Wilson's four principles of a basis for general peace by Count von Hertling.
This announcement was made by the chancellor in the Reichstag after the speech of von Kuehlmann. Proposal of a league of nations after the war is not looked upon with favor by von Hertling, who intimated that such a league might make it uncomfortable for Germany.

"I originally had no intention of taking part in this debate," said the chancellor. "The reasons for my contemplated reserve are obvious:
namely, the experiences I have had together with my predecessor in previous speeches.

"If we spoke our willingness for peace that was regarded as a symptom of weakness and our immediate impending collapse.

HERTLING DEFENDS
SPEAKING POSITION

"Did we speak, on the other hand,
of our unwillingness to defend ourselves in a war of conquest so criminally thrust upon us, it was said that it was the voice of German militarism, to which even the leading statesmen must submit willy-nilly.

"I want a step further on February 24 and expressly stated my attitude toward the message of President Wilson in which he discussed his four points, and gave, in principle, my assent to them. I said that these four points of President Wilson might possibly form the basis of a general world peace. No utterance of President Wilson whatever followed this, so that there is no object in spinning any further threads
there stated.

"There is still less object after statements which have since reached us, especially from America. These statements, indeed, made it really clear what is to be understood from a peace league of peoples or a league of peoples for the maintenance of freedom and justice.

"Our opponents made it clear that they would be the kennel of this league of peoples and that it would be difficult to isolate the uncomfortable upward strivings of Germany and by economic strangulation to extinguish her vital breath. I considered it, as against this, quite proper that the foreign secretary make a statement on the details of our political position in the east from Finland to the Black sea, and in my opinion he fulfilled the task thoroughly.

RECEPTION GIVEN IS UNFRIENDLY

"On the other hand," continued
von Hertling, "some of his statements were given a more or less unfriendly reception in wide circles.
"I feel obliged to clear away the misunderstanding which it seems we obtained in the interpretation of the

RUSSIA WILL RETURN TO CAUSE, SAYS KERENSKY

Former Premier of Slavs in London, Where He Is Heard in Impressive Address Before the British Labor Conference

CLAIMS BOLSHEVIKI
ARE AIDING GERMANY

Party Political Truce in Effect
Since Early in War Is Now Abandoned by Vote of the English Unions in Convention

BY UNITED PRESS.

LONDON, June 26.—I am certain the Russian people shortly will join with you in the great cause of freedom," Alexander Kerensky, former Russian premier, declared in an address at the British labor conference here today.

"I have just come from Moscow.
My duty as a statesman and Socialist is to tell the whole world that the Russian people are a democracy, fighting tyranny.

"The Bolsheviks are working entirely for the interests of Germany, whether willingly or unwillingly, but their days are numbered."

Disorder followed Kerensky's speech. A delegate demanded whom Kerensky represented.

"We do not have any government plant here," he cried. "If Kerensky is allowed here, why not Trotsky
(the Dutch Socialist leader)?"

The chairman declared that such a question was "an insult and an outrage."

DELEGATE OUSTED WHO VOICES PLAIN

Kerensky was asked to address the conference more fully tomorrow.
The conference voted almost unanimously to oust the delegate who demanded whom Kerensky represented.

Kerensky plans shortly to visit
Paris, then return to London before going to America.

"In spite of the horrors in Russia, created by the Bolsheviks, I am hopeful of a prompt regeneration," Kerensky declared in an interview.

"The closest friendship of the allies and America is most necessary for Russia's future well being.

"I believe the Bolsheviks are working in the interests of Germany, but
their days are numbered."

After being introduced by Arthur
Henderson, the British labor leader, Kerensky made his speech in Russian. He was loudly cheered.

Kerensky, who has previously been reported as dead, as en route to America, and as organizing a new Russian revolution, since his overthrow by the Bolsheviks, arrived in London on June 19. Only a few persons knew of his presence, which was not publicly known until today.

Kerensky, reaching London incognito, has moved about quietly though busily, conferring with prominent Russians in England over the necessity of entente allied assistance in Russia.

Kerensky expects to go to America in a week or ten days.
Shortly after the announcement it was reported that Kerensky was en route to the United States. This added to the surprise that greeted his appearance at the labor conference.

The British labor party at its conference held today adopted a resolution to the effect that the party political truce which has been in effect since early in the war should no longer be recognized.

Delegates representing 1,704,000 votes favored the resolution, while representatives of 915,000 votes were against it.

NO BASIS FOR TALK OF KILLING OF CAIR

LONDON, June 26.—There is no foundation for the persistent rumors that Nicholas Romanoff, the former emperor, had been assassinated, says a Moscow Telegram despatch from Moscow dated June 21.

ENEMY RESERVES SHOWING FIGHT IN UPLAND SECTORS

(By United Press)
ROME, June 26.—Italian forces extended their gains at Caposile and repulsed several counter attacks, the Italian war office announced today.

"Yesterday, having recaptured the bridgehead at Caposile, we extended it, repulsing counter attacks," the statement said. "We took 379 prisoners. We are clearing up the battlefield. A few hundred more prisoners have been taken. We are completely recuperating all our artillery, arms and material with an enormous quantity of Austrian material."

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES IN THE FIELD, June 26.—With the Italians re-established on their original line, it is now a question whether they will be able to continue their offensive pressure or will be compelled to return to the defensive.

Despite the success of the limited counter offensive begun by the Italians on the mountain front, it is known the Austrians have concentrated their remaining reserves there, and the Austrians may soon be forced to change their tactics in that region.

The Austrian losses are now estimated at 250,000. Of these, it is reported that fully 20,000 were drowned in the retreat across the upper Piave. The Thirty-first and Thirty-second Austrian Rifle Regiments covered the enemy retreat until only eighty men remained unwounded.
Then they surrendered. General Von Cronstadt, their commander, shot himself.

ADDITION DAND DUM HUN BARRACKS AT KARLSRUHE

LONDON, June 26.—The Italians striking northward into the Venetian mountains in conjunction with their counter offensive along the Piave, have won initial advantages, the night official statements showed.

Heavy concentrations are adding the Italians in this new drive. The Italian war office claimed successes
on the Asiago plateau and in the Mont
Grappa sector. Even in the Tonale Pass region, near the Swiss frontier,
the Italians defeated the enemy.

The west bank of the Piave has been entirely cleared of Austrians, Rome declared, the enemy's last covering force surrendering.

The Italian war office stated that the front between Asiago and the Piave is the zone of violent battles.
"Bitter fighting" was reported at Monte di Valbaila, Asolone, Solopolo,
Col Del Rosso and Monte Grappa.

Vienna claimed a total of fifty thousand prisoners since the offensive began and said "the lowest estimate of the Italian losses was 150,000."

Regarding the retreat across the Piave, the Italian war office stated that it was carried out "in accordance with plans and without loss of materials."

COUNTER OFFENSIVE BEGINS IN MOUNTAINS

ROME, June 25.—In addition to driving all the Austro-Hungarian troops that had crossed the Piave back to the eastern bank, the Italians have begun a counter offensive in the mountains where they made important gains.

An official statement issued by the war office on Tuesday night, said:
"On the Asiago plateau, in the course of raids upon the slopes of Monte di Val Bella, 102 prisoners were captured. Along the northwestern front of the Grappa sector, our troops were in actions combined with heavy concentrations of artillery. Infantry thrusts carried out with great spirit gained us considerable ground from the enemy. We took 1333 prisoners, seven of them officers."

The Austrian war office claims that 50,000 Italian prisoners have been taken and estimates the Italians' total loss at 150,000 men.

With the capture yesterday of between 2500 and 3000 prisoners, the total captures by the Italian forces during their counter-offensive are brought up to the neighborhood of 18,000 men.

Many pitiable sights were witnessed by the Italian during their advance over the shell-swept battle ground.
Frequently they would come upon their own men who had been taken prisoners and abandoned by the Austrians in their retreat. Many of these were wounded, but virtually all were stripped of their shoes and all their clothing.

KERENSKY TO COME TO U. S., IS REPORT

gram from Moscow today. The foreign minister said he considered this action by Germany "to be unexplainable."

(Smolensk is on the Dnieper river, twenty-five miles southeast of Moscow.)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The United States will announce a decisive and comprehensive Russian policy within a week.

Powerful administrative forces have about completed months of research into the Russian situation and it was learned this afternoon that the President and his cabinet have laid aside other considerations pending a final decision of the problem. The conversations held between allied powers regarding action with respect to Russia have taken on importance and the effects of all nations now engaged in the war with this country to adopt a helpful policy toward Russia is expected to crystallize immediately and probably be given to the world by President Wilson personally.

Following the victories of the Italians, the administration has speeded up its work on the Russian situation, and officials believe that the time is ripe during these days of trial for the Central powers to join in one concerted move of friendliness and helpful aid toward Russia.

Inter-allied conference on the problem was advancing rapidly today, but it was stated in high authority that no definite policy has been agreed upon yet. President Wilson is still "of an open mind."

Announced arrival and departure from London of former Premier Kerensky was followed by the return to Washington today of Kerensky's diplomats, who went from here to Paris for conferences with Russian and French leaders there.

Meanwhile new appeals for allied assistance have reached here from Siberian Anti-Bolsheviks and the Russian embassy is expected shortly to make concrete suggestion for help to the American government. Word from General Denikin may determine the solution of the present impasse.

Two Trucks Added To Fire Apparatus

With the arrival and placing in commission of two combination hose, chemical and pumping fire trucks today, Commissioner F. F. Jackson announced that eight horses are eliminated from the department with an annual saving of nearly $4500 in upkeep. Fire Chief Whitehead said the trucks will be installed in Engine House No. 6 at Twenty-third avenue and East Sixteenth street and at Engine No. 16 at Thirteenth avenue and Hopkins street. The pumping capacity of the new engines is 150 gallons a minute. Their installation is a step further toward the complete motorization of the fire department.

Thriller Given Real Wifey Thrill Two Spouses Jolt Film Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Hugh von Emmel of the Goldwyn Distributing Corporation, 985 Market street, writes and sells occasional screen thrillers, but never in his life did he get such a good idea for a thrill as when he met his two wives and their families at the same time and in the same place. He was somewhat thrilled himself, for he thought that they were some three thousand miles apart. He went to the Ferry building to meet one of them, but only one. He met her, acknowledged that she was his wife, and then he met the other one. But he was so upset by the intense reality of it that when asked if she, too, was his wife, he swore he could not tell until he consulted his attorney. A consultation was arranged for him with his attorney at the Harbor police station.

Wife No. 1, Mrs. Wilhelmina von Emmel, is a nurse at the Veteran's Home in Napa county. She alleges that von Emmel deserted her and their three children over four years ago, and that there is still pending in Napa county an application made by her for his arrest.

LEAVES WIFE NO. 2.
Wife No. 2, Mrs. Ethel von Emmel, is from Cambridge, Mass. She met and married von Emmel at a Los Angeles picture colony shortly after he deserted wife No. 1, it is said. She says he soon tired of her and sent her with their one child back to the old homestead.

All the way across the continent apart, the two women proved the saying that murder will out. In some manner they learned of each other. Then they decided to put up a job on von Emmel, to give him a real genuine old-fashioned melo-dramatic thrill. They arranged it with Corporal Martin Fogarty, detective Michael Desmond as directors of the scene.

Traveling, one across the continent and one from Napa, they met at the Ferry building and arranged the preliminaries. Then they sent for the officers, who in turn sent for von Emmel. Then the two women took up their positions one at each end of the long room on the second floor of the Ferry building.

PLOT IS COMPLICATED.
In the hero of the situation, blithe, expectant. The officers met him, escorted him to his room and registered him politely as he greeted his long-lost wife.

"Certainly she is my wife," he said, registering indignation when the officer asked him, "Why, the idea!"

Then they led him away toward the other end. For a close up as they walked, he registered slight confusion, apprehension. As they approached wife No. 2, he almost registered a fit.

He said that the plot was becoming too complicated and that before he could go on he would have to consult with his director of legal affairs.

Silence Greets Hun Peace Talk Hertling Rejects Wilson Basis

second part of the secretary's statement. The tendency of these utterances of the state secretary was purely to ascribe the responsibility for the continuation and immeasurable prolongation of the terrible war to the enemy powers entirely in the sense it had indicated on February 24, or it goes without saying there can be no question of lessening the energetic defense of our will or of shaking our confidence in victory.

Strong applause followed this utterance by the chancellor.

"Now, as before," he added, "the ruler of the empire, the princes and the people stand closely and confidently together. They trust in our incomparable troops, our incomparable army leaders and our united people, which are unshakably standing together, and we may hope that the Almighty, who hitherto has helped us and led us from victory to victory, will reward His faithful German people."

PRESS COMMENT
ON PEACE TALK.
The Germania, of Berlin, considers the speech opens wide the field for peace discussions and says it keenly awaits the reply of the entente allied countries.

"Many sentences in the speech," says Vorwaerts, "might be termed longer or shorter steps forward on the road to conciliation, and they came very near the aim set up and regarded as just by the world."

The paper, however, recognizes the present territory of Germany and her allies is a self-evident condition of peace, while freedom of the seas and of trade are of the highest importance. Germany's colonies must be restored.

The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung expects the speech will again turn discussion abroad to the questions dealt with, especially as to responsibility for continuance of the war.

"Yesterday was a lost day," comments the Lokal Anzeiger.

The Kreuss Zeitung thinks it might have been better if Secretary von Kuehlmann had been silent regarding relations with hostile countries and the possibilities of peace.

PARIS, June 25.—Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann's statement that the war cannot be won by force of arms caused a sensation in the Reichstag, says a Zurich despatch to the Petit Journal. His prediction that the war might last through a fifth winter was received in silence and there was much consternation among the members of the right. The debate which followed the foreign secretary's speech was very stormy, Pan-Germanist speeches being interrupted by the left.

A despatch from Geneva says that exchange on Berlin and Vienna weakened on the receipt of the secretary's speech. The mark fell 2.60 and the crown 1.65. Allied exchange continued firm.

LONDON, June 25.—Neutral leaders may seize upon the speeches of Foreign Secretary Balfour and Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann as an excuse for proposing mediation, according to an Amsterdam despatch to the Express.

"It is understood that as a result of the Balfour and von Kuehlmann speeches being considered as an invitation for neutral mediation, our positions north of the Rhine were repulsed," says the official report.

"American units conducted a brilliant detail operation in Belleau wood last night. One hundred and thirty prisoners, including a captain, already are numbered."

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Von Kuehlmann's latest peace offensive is regarded here as little more than a desecration—unacceptable and insincere.

State Department and other authorities gave it scant thought or discussion. They did make it clear, though, that the United States will not be taken for a moment to such an appeal, which apparently has the plunder of Russia as its foundation.

Allied diplomats used it as the text for further urgings in favor of Russian intervention.

As predicted, this latest peace offensive is intended evidently to lay the groundwork for concessions in the west, provided Germany could have a free hand in the east.

In attempt to test the blame of starting the war upon Russia is considered a palpable foundation for a drive to annex Russia as a German territory or exploit it under German control.

PARIS, June 25.—"A brilliant American operation in Belleau wood," and successful French raids on various positions of the front were reported by the French war office today.

French raids in the Mailly-Reneval, Melchocq, Vinly Cornillet and Lorraine regions resulted in the capture of prisoners and machine guns," the communiqué said.

posing a reasonable peace, the queen of Holland, the kings of Spain and Scandinavia, the president of Switzerland, or the governments of those countries, next soon offer mediation," the despatch says. "Neutral leaders have already conferred on the subject."

JACK PICKFORD
AS 'HIS MAJESTY,' BUNKER BEAN, 'AT KINEMA TODAY

The humble little steno bluffs it through, and wins his girl, the Flapper, and a small fortune in the screen adaptation of Harry Leon Wilson's popular Saturday Evening Post's story.

One of the last pictures made by Jack Pickford before entering the service of "His Majesty," Bunker Bean, which is being shown at the Kinema today until Saturday only. Jack plays the role of the humble Bunker, a steno who after depositing four bits with a clairvoyant, he discovers that he is to be the great conqueror Napoleon. That starts the excitement, but even Napoleon had his faults, so Bunker comes through with another clairvoyant fee and finds that he was Rameses the Great in the days of yore.

Well, Jack carries the absurd bluff all the way through, and finally wins the "Flapper" and a small fortune. It is every bit as entertaining as his Tom Sawyer comedy shown earlier in the week. "His Smothered Love," proved such a roaring road one that it is being shown for the rest of the week—the Mack Sennett originally booked for this week-end will be shown later.

Next week comes to the Kinema the first picture the great war has produced to be dedicated to the mothers of the nation, called "The Mothers of Liberty." The Douglas color pictures, the invention of the San Rafael man which are creating such a stir in San Francisco this week, will also be on the program.

AUSTRIAN LOSS GROWS ON PLAVE

pieces of wood or anything that would aid them; they tied themselves to mules and horses, but their efforts were in vain, for as the enemy troops reached the opposite bank they were again caught in the fire of the Italian guns, which had been trained accurately on the eastern bank for some days.

On the Montello the slaughter was terrible. Bodies of the Austrian troops were moved down almost to the river. At the crossing of the Nervese both banks of the river were strewn with dead and dying while hundreds of bodies were carried down in the current to the sea.

At one place the correspondent counted 300 bodies while walking a distance of half a mile. One regiment of covering troops which originally was composed of more than 2000 men had left Monday but eighty-eight men to the company and these were prisoners.

Along the Lower Plave the Austrians found themselves, if possible, in a worse position and left more dead.

A single episode shows how and why the retreat started. On Saturday the Austrian command sent the Ninety-first Schuetzen brigade, composed of regiments Nos. 31 and 32, with orders to widen the Austrian breach at Lando and to capture this at all hazards. The brigade attempted to carry out this order and fought like wild men, but the Italian pressure was so terrific that they were unable to accomplish the object, which was to surround the Italian divisions already surrounded in this section.

IN SINGLE BRIGADE

After six attacks, which continued Saturday night and Sunday morning, there remained at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon only ninety men of this brigade. The others were either prisoners, wounded or dead. The commanding officer then committed suicide and the ninety surrendered.

In fleeing the Austrians left behind them much war material. The enemy troops even took away their rifles and captured hundreds of machine guns which were to have been used to protect the retreats. It is estimated that the number of Austrians on the western bank of the Plave who were taken prisoner was over 100,000.

Among sixteen prisoners taken on Montello, it was observed that they belonged to no less than seven different regiments. Prisoners report that serious losses were caused by the Italian artillery, trench bombs and machine guns. The Thirtieth Schuetzen division is reported to have lost fifty men from each company on an average.

From the first day of the offensive Italian morale was of the highest among both the troops and the civilian population. Nothing appears to be little concerned over the fact that the enemy was striking in his rear, only twenty miles away. Today, however, Venice awoke to celebrate the Italian victory.

The Duke of Aosta's third army continued to advance along the Plave front, in the Capo Sile region, clearing the positions abandoned by the Austrians, picking up the abandoned war material, burying the masses of dead and reorganizing the entire defense system, which had been badly cut up during the last ten days.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The German submarine which sank the British transport Dwinck 700 miles east of this port last Tuesday used the steamship's life boats as decoys in an attempt to attract other vessels within gunfire range, said survivors of the torpedoed troopship who arrived here. The use failed to yield the U-boat a victim, according to the Dwinck's captain, but it prompted desultory long-range shelling from an east-bound transport whose commander mistakenly mistook the boats with their small sails, for submarines.

MRS. SHEEREN GAINS 23 LBS.

Suffering of 12 Years' Standing Now Ended and She Feels Fine.

"I have had a long hard struggle with ill health, but by the help of Tanlac I am at last well and happy," says Mrs. E. A. Sheeren, 3311 Fifth street, West Seattle, Wash., recently.

Nearly twelve years ago, she contracted a bad cold, which developed into typhoid fever, which left my nerves all shattered, and my stomach in an awful condition. I could not eat and I could not sleep, and I was down in bed all last summer, unable to turn my hands to a thing. I suffered until I was almost distracted.

I got down to where I weighed only one hundred and thirty-four pounds and kept getting thinner and weaker all the time. I made up my mind to try it, and it has done me more good than I ever expected. My appetite is splendid now, and I can eat just anything I want without feeling a sign of indigestion or sour stomach. My nerves are strong and steady. I sleep like a child every night, and get up in the mornings feeling fine. I have not felt the pain in my back and side since shortly after I began taking Tanlac and it has built me up until now I weigh one hundred and sixty-seven pounds, making an actual gain of twenty-three pounds. Of course, think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world. I have the best of reason for praising it, and hope others will take it and find relief.

Here is another instance of the wonderful reconstructive powers of Tanlac. Mrs. Sheeren is only one of many thousands who have taken it with the same gratifying results. It is a powerful agent of great benefit to her simply because it contains certain medicinal properties which enrich the blood and promote a healthy appetite for nourishing food, thus helping to build up health and strength in the natural way. Tanlac has been very successful in overcoming nervousness and sleeplessness, not from a quieting effect on the nerves but by strengthening the nerves and body and bringing back the healthy state of mind and body. Its effect on the appetite and nutrition of the body. Genuine Tanlac, made according to the latest improved formula, and bearing the name of G. F. Willis, International Distributor, is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Store—Advertisement.

COUNTY'S CROP OF CANDIDATES FLOURISHING

There is pronounced activity in county political circles. Lack of moisture and other untoward weather conditions have exerted no influence in reducing the candidate crop. Contrary to expectations, the war has failed to divert attention from politics.

All the county candidates are seeking re-election with the exception of County Treasurer M. J. Kelly. The movement to all-day activity is opposed to the "ins" are two political organizations now engaged in framing full county tickets. The Taxpayers' League has practically completed its list, although several candidates remain to be filled. The Alameda County Federation has not completed its list, although several candidates have been endorsed that appear on the Taxpayers' League ticket. The candidates claiming both endorsements are Dr. H. H. Sprauer, who is hopes to displace Grant D. Miller as coronor, William T. Satterwhite, candidate for district attorney, and former Assemblyman Frank M. Smith, who aspires to the office of county clerk.

The ticket of the Taxpayers' League as announced, follows:
For county clerk, Frank M. Smith; for sheriff, George E. Hughes; for tax collector, Arthur D. Diller; for treasurer, Colonel Sam J. Taylor; for recorder, Gil W. Bacon; for auditor, Henry Vogt, district attorney, William T. Satterwhite, superintendent of schools, George A. Edgar, coronor, Dr. Robert Baldwin; public administrator, J. C. Frohner; surveyor, Harlan Miller; superior judges, J. G. Murphy, Lincoln S. Church, Frank E. Ogden; supervisors, William B. Bridges and J. H. Heinemann; police judges (Oakland), H. L. Bacon and N. P. Sorenson; justice of peace (Oakland Township), Frank Nebeker; justice of peace (Brooklyn Township), B. Hoffmann; constable of Oakland Township, A. P. Johnson.

The Taxpayers' League has overlooked that city, according to residents of Alameda, in the selection of candidates, except in the case of supervisor in the Third supervisory district, a large part of which district lies within that city.

The Alameda County Federation, which its officers declare is not allied with any secret society, has not announced a ticket as yet, although it is stated that the organization will soon publish a pamphlet containing a full record of every aspirant for county office.

Members of the medical profession are urged to respond to this call for patriotic service that they owe their country. ## Dr. Lucas Will Tell of War Experiences Friday Night

DR. WILLIAM PALMER LUCAS, who will speak Friday night for the benefit of the tubercular children of Oakland. His subject will be "The Children of France Under Fire."

Will Describe Moving Wounded Patients from Hospital Under Fire of Huns

Dr. William Palmer Lucas, chief of the Children's Bureau of the American Red Cross in France, will give but one lecture on this side of the bay. This will be given in the ball room of Hotel Oakland Friday evening, June 28, at 8.30 o'clock.

The proceeds will be entirely devoted to the children's work of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society. Tickets may be had at Sherman & Clay's, also at Hotel Oakland.

Dr. Lucas, who has been chief of the Department of Children's Diseases of the University of California Hospital, returns from his year's intensive work in France with most valuable and accurate information regarding troops on the battlefield, also with full knowledge of the condition of the civilian population of that country. At present he is devoting all of his time to the conservation of child-life in France. In his bureau are associated with him 400 Americans, among these workers are Miss Elizabeth Ashe of Telegraph Hill Settlement, who is acting as chief nurse, also Elizabeth Gray Potter, of Oakland. This staff of nurses now numbers 200 working under 80 expert physicians.

Dr. Lucas tells of his harrowing experience when his commission was forced to evacuate hospitals under shell fire during the recent German advances in April and May. He tells how after these bombardments and evacuation of Nettle and Amiens the doctors and nurses were forced to bring out their patients under fire and to establish temporary hospitals.

"Pay Patient" Law Revision Sought

SACRAMENTO, June 26.—The California State legislature will be asked next January to revise the State law relating to the care of patients in State hospitals. A recent investigation by the State Board of Control revealed that although the law definitely fixed a charge of $15 a month each for the care of such patients, this work now was costing the State in excess of $20 a patient.

The legislature will be asked to amend the law to permit the State to care for the patients at cost, members of the Board of control said.

WOMEN ARE FOUND DEAD IN COTTAGE

KEANSBURG, N. J., June 26.—Charles S. Canniff, secretary of the tariff bureau of the New York Central railroad, his aged mother and her niece, Miss Mary Barrett of California, were found dead, victims of gas asphyxiation, in their seaside cottage here.

A woman clerk from the railroad offices sent to the Canniff home of the secretary failed to appear at his office on two successive days, found the doors locked. With a neighbor she forced her way in and discovered the three people in their beds. Physicians declared they had been dead at least two days. A disconnected tube on the kitchen range was permitting gas to escape.

ANTIOCH PHYSICIAN DIES.
MARTINEZ, June 26.—Dr. A. L. North, 40, for the last two years a prominent physician of Antioch, is dead at his home after an illness of about one week. He leaves six children, his wife having died several months ago.

STANDARD HEN CAN'T PAY WAY AT FEED PRICE

When the God of War swung his mace on the world, he slashed off the head of poultry profits along with a lot of other things. As a result, the standard hen can no longer pay her keep, at the present prices of feed. So said Professor E. J. Hauser before the United States Tariff Commission, in its hearing on the request of poultry men for an increased protective on eggs.

The hen which lays 120 eggs a year, instead of being considered a model hen, he said, becomes a luxury. L. H. Sprauer, an egg-raiser, sustained the university men by showing how a standard hen on his 1933-acre ranch, which laid 120 eggs a year, earned him 66 cents a year in 1913, while the same hen, straining every cam in her gears could only earn him a profit of 27 cents.

Petaluma, with 4,000,000 laying hens, and the center of the world's chicken industry, is losing money every day, according to witnesses.

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS HOMeward BOUND

Oakland's Boy Scouts will be home tomorrow from their encampment at Yosemite. Demobilization of the boys' army took place today, following the final march of the camp, a trip to the Mariposa Big Trees. From the Big Trees the scouts boarded the motor trucks that carried them to the valley, and under command of their scoutmasters started for home. They will travel through the hot valley during the cool of the evening.

The final activities of the scouts included a "night attack" of Indians, in which a lively sham battle was staged, and a trip to Glacier Point. Scoutmaster H. F. Prund says that the military problems worked out at the affair were far in advance of anything ever attempted by boy scouts in the West before.

The trip is being made in Tagel trucks, made in Oakland and supplied to the boy scouts through the courtesy of THE TRIBUNE and the Butler-Veitch agency.

SOCIETY

With the rise of the curtain at 8:15 this evening at the Auditorium theater, society will witness a gala scene of college life, the opening act to depict a regular "frat" house, whose characters impersonated by the school set of east bay society, in a performance of "The Fraternity House," a comedy of songs and dances, presented for the benefit of the Wool fund of the Oakland Chapter of the Red Cross.

The comedy will be beautifully staged, as many large concerns have contributed their help in the way of furnishings and handsome sports suits and costumes to be worn.

For several weeks the younger set has rehearsed almost daily for the two productions, the second of which will be given tomorrow night in the same location—the Auditorium theater. Seats may be procured from Sherman & Clay's, at Fourteenth and Clay streets.

Following the performance this evening there will be a merry gathering at the Hotel Oakland, where a supper dance is to be the aftermath; also tomorrow evening as a climax to the Red Cross benefit. Mrs. Horatio Bonnell will have one of the largest tables and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trillick Hutchinson will entertain guests.

Among those who are sponsors for this evening's affair are: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. W. W. and Mrs. John Francis Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Moffitt, Mr. and Mrs. James Dieckmann, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. J. Maxwell Tait, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Robert Capwell, Mr. and Mrs. Wigginton Creed, Mr. and Mrs. H. Spens Black, Mr. and Mrs. William Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. W. and Mrs. Joseph Russell Knovland, Mr. and Mrs. John Bell Nhoon, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Abbott and scores of others.

So extensive is the sale of tickets that many who found it impossible to attend the performance this evening purchased the same and attended the rehearsals, for the cause is one that must be listened to—the purchasing of wool, ultimately the providing of coats and sweaters for the hard winter, perhaps, for the winter.

Mrs. A. R. Dabney and her daughter, Miss Clara Dabney, are planning to spend the summer in the far north and will go to Aberdeen, Wash., to visit with friends and relatives. This will not be their first trip to the north, and so will be made all the more enjoyable since many pleasant affairs will be planned for their entertainment. Before returning to California they will visit at Tacoma, Portland and Seattle.

A trip of the near future which will be taken by Miss Dabney when she will accompany Dr. William Schwaner and Mrs. Schwaner into the Sierras in the vicinity of Lake Tahoe.

A group of the school set are to be guests this evening at the supper dance at the Hotel Oakland, when Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrison Clay will entertain for their young daughter, Miss Elizabeth Clay, one of the participants in the tennis dance.

J. Walter Scott will give a dinner party this evening at his home in compliment to Lieutenant Frank Rolfe and his wife, who have just returned from Camp Lewis. Lieutenant Rolfe expects to return to the cantonment at American Lake within a few days, while Mrs. Rolfe will be the guest of her relatives here for a period extending over several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Blasingame and Mrs. George Leonard of Berkeley were members of a party which included the Mrs. Jack Schaeffer of the culture club and Mrs. Roy Hoad of San Francisco, who motored from Fresno this week. The Blasingames are to remain in the north for the summer months.

Nomads of the Berkeley set, who will be Dr. Hiram V. Edwards of Fresno, who accompanied by Mrs. Edwards, will come north to be here the remainder of the summer. Dr. Edwards is a physicist at the State University throughout the summer season.

A wedding solemnized in June in Sacramento was that of Miss Inez Hitt, daughter of the late superintendent of public instruction, and Mrs. Hyatt, and Charles Kerr of Los Angeles. The marriage was solemnized at the Hyatt home, Rev. F. R. Ferrell of Bethany Presbyterian Church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will make their future residence in Los Angeles. The news of the wedding is of interest to many in educational circles in the east bay cities.

For the next two months Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Merrill will open their summer home at Bon Lomond in the Santa Cruz Mountains. It was only recently that they returned from Washington, D. C., where they visited their son, Charles W. Merrill, one of Hoover's assistants in the Food Administration. Mrs. Charles Merrill has returned West and is now at her home in Warring Street, Berkeley.

Mrs. Tyler Henshaw entertained at luncheon yesterday afternoon at her home in Vernon Heights for fourteen of the friends of her daughter, Mrs. Merrill Dow (Mrs. Henshaw). Dow is now taking a special course at one of the training camps near Chicago. For many months Mrs. Dow has made her home in the southern section of the State, and later will join her husband in the East before he is ordered to France.

A SOLDIER'S MOTHER IN FRANCE

BY RHETA CHILDE DORR

Tribune Correspondent who has just returned from France.

Babies of Germans' Victims Problems in France

Husbands and Fiances Heroic in Devotion

I have written of a house of mercy in Paris where women and girl victims of German soldiers find shelter. With Madame Avril St. Croix, the managing director, I visited this house and I saw there that which made me an implacable foe of any peace except on terms of extinction of the power that caused this war.

"We have very few here now," said Madame St. Croix. "I mean compared with the first two years of the war. When the Germans think themselves victorious they are ruthless in their treatment of women and of civilians generally. When they are losing they are less cruel."

I am glad that I did not see the first fruits of German wrath. I do not understand how any one who did see it can ever smile or be happy again. What I have seen is the mild and tempered wrath of a beaten foe. I saw, in what is called the isolation pavilion of that house of mercy, seventeen girls in a condition of health which made it impossible for them to associate with others.

This pavilion had room for twice the number, and in former times, from 1914 to 1916, this one refuge was crowded, crowded with ruined and desecrated French and Belgian girls. Now the German army has less time and less opportunity for such bestiality. There were only seventeen girls in the isolation pavilion of that house of mercy in Paris. The youngest girl was fourteen.

A ROOM OF TRAGEDY They have comfortable rooms, a little parlor with books and a piano, and a kind and devoted house mother. She is a teacher as well, and the education of these pathetic young creatures is carried on daily, as though they had a normal destiny, as indeed some of them have. Recovery, even from their dreadful malady, is not impossible, and the best medical care in Paris is given them freely.

In another pavilion of this house I saw another group of girls much better off. They had lived through horrors, but their health was somehow preserved. The youngest of these girls was 12 years old, and the hideous thing had happened to her two years ago. I think I have never seen a more tragic figure than this little girl. Her face was white and solemn and her eyes were old. She seldom spoke.

While we were looking at the sewing work and some of the girls were busy making up tea, a friend of the house came in to play the piano for the girls to sing. This is her regular contribution to the work. They sang, these poor little larks, around the piano, sang of home and love and all things beautiful.

CHILD IS PITIFUL VICTIM I sat and listened and thought of peaceful America, where the war is still little more than an abstraction, a fact hardly realized except by the mothers and fathers and wives of men who have gone away.

Perhaps it is unworthy of a reporter, but the sight of these young victims of the war has been a great deal to me. I sat and listened and thought of peaceful America, where the war is still little more than an abstraction, a fact hardly realized except by the mothers and fathers and wives of men who have gone away.

Out of the sound of their voices I sat down and let the most unbearable part of the pain flow away in tears. As I sat there on the garden bench I heard a little soft exclamation. Looking up I saw the youngest girl, the little one who at 10 years had had her life wrecked by a Hunnish criminal, more than one, for all I know. This child with the white, solemn face and the old eyes stood there, pitying me for a trouble she did not understand. But for her there was but one trouble, and she assumed that I was weeping for that.

She reached out a timid little hand and laid it on mine.

"Ah, madame," she whispered, "is it not terrible, the war?"

BABIES ARE CARED FOR It is terrible, but it has brought to the surface a nervous and a grandeur of soul that few of us knew the French people possessed. I asked Mme. St. Croix to tell me the women and girls who had borne children to the German invaders. "What will you do with those bocha babies?" I asked her.

"We shall assimilate them," she said proudly. And she added that the mothers, married or unmarried, as a rule loved their forlorn little babies. "I have known only two women who wished to get rid of their children," she assured me.

Nature is stronger than convention. The heart of woman is a mother heart, and nothing can ever change it. It was man and not woman who invented the myth of the illegitimate child. Yet over there in France, even the men have risen above that harsh and cruel tradition. Mme. St. Croix, who takes on herself the painful duty of telling me what happened to their women when the Germans came, told me how nobly and bravely French men have stood by and sheltered them.

HER FIANCÉ IS BRAVE There was a girl who came under her care shortly before last July. She was a fine little boy, fortunately the image of his mother. She had lost everything in the war, father, mother, home, and she clung passionately to her child. Only, at times, she wept bitterly thinking of the young soldier she had hoped to marry and who was ignorant of what had befallen her.

Mme. St. Croix looked up the young man, found his regiment, and arranged for his return. His agony when she told him that he was not for an instant was his allegiance to his sweetheart shaken. He had mourned her as dead, and he blessed the noble woman who restored her to him again.

"What has happened is not conceivably her fault," declared this fine young soldier. "I love her more for what she has suffered. If I could I would marry her tomorrow and be a father to her child. But I am not sure that I can. I am not sure that it would be for her happiness."

With tears in his eyes the man told Mme. St. Croix that he was under 25, and until after a man has passed that age he may not, according to French law, marry without the consent of his mother. This young man's parents, he explained, were small town folk with a small town point of view.

LIES TO SHIELD HER Their morality was a little narrow-minded, and he feared that they would never consent to his marriage with a girl who had suffered at the hands of the Hun. They would pity her, of course, but they would not want her for a daughter. They would never be able to love the child.

"Let me go away now," he implored, "and try to think what is best to be done."

A week later he returned with a radiant face. He had obtained leave and had gone home to see his mother. There, on his knees, he had told her his tale, and that must have been recorded in heaven to his favor. He told her that he was the father of that girl's baby, that he had wronged her, and now begged permission to right the wrong by marrying her.

The mother's reproaches were severe, and the poor young man had the pain of seeing her suffer for what she thought was his guilt. But after she had been induced to look at the baby's picture her good heart was awakened. She agreed to the marriage and promised to love and care for the mother and child until the end of the war.

FUTURE IS BIG PROMISE This man was a simple soldier, a child of working people. He did not know that he was heroic, and in fact what he did had been matched by scores of men in France. Very often after the Germans violated women and children in the invaded towns and villages, they murdered them cruelly. Those left alive have been cherished by their men, only too thankful that they were spared.

"Not that the men do not suffer," said Mme. St. Croix. "We prize virtue and staidness in women. But we love justice more. And if this dreadful thing is done on men whose betrothed are wronged, how much harder it is on a man whose wife has borne children to the unspeakable boche."

"He may forget what she has gone through, but how can he endure the presence of the child? What will be the future of those children, intruders in the family? I do not know."

What has happened to thousands of women who have been invaded Belgium and France could just as well happen in this country. It would happen without the smallest doubt if the Huns landed on our shores. Can you imagine what it would be, fathers and mothers of America, to stand with German guns leveled at your heads while beasts in human form violated your young daughters before your eyes?

THEY CAN "NEVER FORGET" Can you imagine what it would be for our soldiers to come home from the war and find their wives and daughters with German babies in their arms? This is what many French and Belgian soldiers have had to endure. You will not persuade any of these men to listen to arguments in favor of a peace without victory.

All over France you will see in homes, in shop windows, on blank walls a poster. There are just three words on this poster: "Frenchmen, never forget!" In the upper right-hand corner of the poster there is a picture of some woe-filled thing that has happened since the German hordes began to overrun the world.

Sometimes the picture is of a burned and desolated village, a shattered hulk of what was once a beautiful old church. Oftener it is a picture of a ruined womanhood, blasted childhood.

In the lower left-hand corner of the poster is a picture of a smooth German salesman trying to sell something in France. "Frenchmen, never forget!" They never will forget. They have tenacious memories, our French allies.

HAVE LONG MEMORIES Can any one who has visited Paris forget the statue of Strasbourg in the Place de la Concorde? It is one of eight splendid monuments in that square, each representing a city of France. When the Germans filched Alsace and Lorraine from France, after the war of 1870, Strasbourg was lost to the French. On that day they held funeral wreaths on the statue in the Place de la Concorde, and they have kept funeral wreaths there ever since.

Until August, 1914. Then they took away the emblem of mourning, because they knew Strasbourg would be theirs again. The statue is gay with flowers now, and with flags of all the allies. Our flag is there, the flag of the French call the drapeau étoilé, the be-starred banner. May it stay there until what it has gone to France for has been accomplished, until the utterly crushed and vanquished German army has been pursued beyond the Rhine, until something what the women of France and of martyred Belgium have endured has been paid for.

Not in the same coin, however. The men who have suffered so bravely are incapable of such crimes.

new rubber ring or top if necessary and rebolt. If it is necessary to use process quarts for ten minutes under eight pounds of steam pressure.

FOR PEOPLE WHO WORRY Worry never brought any good to anybody. But, you say, "I don't worry because I want to, I worry because I can't help it." Or, "I worry because I have so much to worry about."

We all have our troubles and worries, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact without being able to profit by it.

The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive. But he cannot do it because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is a characteristic symptom, must be cured by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "Diseases of the Nervous System" and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia."

So many people have read it and written back, "This hits my case exactly. I am giving the treatment a trial and being benefited," that the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has had a lot of these books printed and will send you a copy free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a non-alcoholic tonic, particularly suited for nervous, neurasthenic people. Your druggist sells them or they will be mailed postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

Churches GEORGE ADAM SMITH, the celebrated Scotch professor and preacher, a representative of the British government, will address a mass meeting Thursday evening in Wheeler Hall, at the University of California.

He is principal and vice-chancellor of Aberdeen University, Scotland, and is reputed to be the greatest Biblical scholar and historian in the world. Mrs. Susan's Liberty Bonds, at the Fruitvale Congregational church Friday evening. Freeing the play, Mrs. J. Young, monologist, will present a sketch, "At the Matinee." Miss Elizabeth Pride will read a selected number. African numbers will be furnished by Carol and Irene Thompson and R. O. Youta. The proceeds are to be devoted to the fund now being raised by the pastor to liquidate the church debt.

The pastor, Rev. Roy O. Youta, is beginning a series of Wednesday evening lectures on Old Testament history with modern applications.

By EDNA B. KINARD.

The national patriotic play week is named for the seven days beginning September 1.

A great war-time recreation drive has been started by the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense. In cooperation with the children's bureau, carrying out the comprehensive program for children's year. At a conference of delegates from all the recreational organizations of the country held in Washington early this month an appeal was addressed to eleven million American women urging their assistance in the July and August campaigns for play which will culminate in the larger effort of the early September.

Out of the grimness of war, in which not only men but the women of the nation are engaged, comes the great necessity for recreation and the relaxation of mind and body that the morale of the fighting machine, whether on the battle field or in the kitchen, overseas or at home, may not be lessened. Government has recognized that play is a factor in ultimate victory. How much more important then is it for the children of the United States to have kept their nerves and sturdy their growing bodies during these perilous times when pressure naturally breaks down the stands of peace times. Hence the national effort under the children's bureau to emphasize recreation for children in all its phases.

CALL FOR SERVICE SENT TO WOMEN.

So in these words the call to service is sent out by the woman's committee, Councils of National Defense, the eleven million women of America. We appeal through you, all patriotic citizens to save the nation's children from the war-time hazard of increased delinquency overtaxed nerves and weakened bodies by giving them a fair chance in the summer vacation to grow well and strong through play and recreation. You are asked, each in her own community, to foster and promote wholesome leisure time activities throughout July and August, leading up to a patriotic play week beginning September 1. Suggested programs will be provided through the state chairman of the child welfare committee by the woman's committee, Councils of National and State Defense.

The organizations which are co-operating in this program are: the children's bureau and the Councils of National Defense, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Drama League of America, the Educational Drama Society, the Boy Scouts of America, the Camp Fire Girls, the American Red Cross bureau of junior membership, Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, United States Agricultural Department (Boys and Girls), Community Chorus movement, United States Bureau of Education (war gardens, etc.), Story Telling League, Girl Scouts of America, Playground and Recreation Association of America.

LEADERS ATTEND CHICAGO CONFERENCE.

From all over the country there gathered in Chicago today delegates to a conference of women interested in the supervision of the schools and the training of teachers under the Smith-Hughes act for vocational education. The whole matter of vocational work is being discussed. The morning's program presented two interesting phases. The Home Management Course in the Home Economics Training of Teachers and the Supervised Practical Work and Home Projects in Secondary Schools. "The Program of Home Economics Education Under the Smith-Hughes Act" was taken up this afternoon, together with the "Plans for the Summer Evening School Instruction." The assistant director for home economics education representing the federal board for vocational education participated in the conference, answering all questions relating to the Smith-Hughes vocational act. Ample opportunity was allowed for the discussion of the problems which have arisen this year in the development of vocational home economics and for making plans for carrying out the program of part time and evening instruction proposed as a war-time measure.

WOMEN DIETITIANS ASKED TO REGISTER.

A summons has been sent forth to all women dietitians to register with the American Red Cross. Enrollment does not carry with it an obligation to serve. The qualifications are two years training in household economics and subsequent practical or teaching experience. Approximately 150 women have been appointed as hospital dietitians in cantonment or navy hospitals in the United States.

The third institute training course for Home Service Workers of American Red Cross will begin in Washington, D. C., October 15. The intensive course which prepares a student to become efficient home service workers or executive secretaries of home service committees covers a period of six weeks. The entire course is included in twenty-five divisions with a city in each as a center for training and the courses will be given in all these twenty-five cities.

Dotty Puzzle

by ADELE GARRISON

could see no trace of the man who had so startled me. Scoring myself for being so foolish as to imagine that the man might still be keeping track of me, I walked all through his actions away from me and kept up with Lillian's brisk pace, chatting with her gayly over our past experience in buying hats and the exorable creations turned out by the milliners generally.

The next room proved all that Lillian had promised. Fortunately, we were early enough to escape the noon hour rush and secure a good table near a window looking out upon the street.

"I like to look out upon the people passing, don't you?" Lillian said, as she seated herself.

"Yes, I do," I assented, and then we turned our attention to the menu cards. "I'm fearfully hungry," Lillian announced. "I've been digging in my stomach. Oh! it's chicken pie here today." Her voice held all the glee of a gourmandizing child. "I don't think these individual chicken pies they serve here can be beaten in New York. I've eaten on 'em. You know the usual menu—Potatoes and onions, and a little bit of chicken mixed up with a sauce they insult with the name gravy. These are the real article—just the chicken meat with a delicious gravy covering it, baked in the most flaky crust you can imagine. What do you say to those, with some baked potatoes, new lima beans, sliced tomatoes and an ice for dessert?"

"I don't think it can be improved upon," I said, and then I glanced at Lillian's arm. "Look quickly," I whispered, "the other side of the street!"

Lillian's eyes followed mine to the opposite side of the street, where, walking slowly along, was the man I had seen in the house. He had just once toward the tea room, but as he came opposite to it he turned from the pavement and crossed the street leisurely toward us.

"Oh! I believe he is coming in," I gasped, and my knees began to tremble beneath me.

"Suppose he is," Lillian snapped back. Her tone held a contemptuous impatience that braced me as nothing else could.

"The man has a right to come in here if he wishes," she said, and her mindless or he may have followed you. You're rather fetching in that little sport rig, my dear, as your mirror probably told you this morning. Unless he outrides himself there is nothing you can do or say, and I don't think you should get fresh—well, I pity him, that's all."

Lillian's threatening air was so comical that I lost my nervousness and laughed outright at her belligerence. The laugh was not loud, but it evidently was audible to the man, for he entered the room for he turned and cast a quick, sharp look upon me before moving on to a table farther down the room. The waitress indicated a chair, which, if he had taken such a look at me, I had no means of the side of the table, sat down in a chair which commanded a full view of us.

Lillian bent about a quick tation beneath the table. "I don't think he's looking at me," she murmured, vindictively. "He'd better look out. I'd hate to forget I'm a perfect lady, but I'm afraid I may have to break loose if that chap stays around here."

"Oh, don't say anything to him, Lillian," I pleaded, terribly distressed and upset at the very thought of a possible scene. "Let's hurry through our luncheon and get out."

"Well, I'm sorry if you are in trouble," said Uncle Wiggly, looking about, but seeing no one, "though I am not sorry to see you in one of my trees, for I like the sound of your cheerful song."

"Well, I'm sorry," went on the voice, sadly.

"Why?" asked the bunny.

"Because I am in fast in some sticky gum from this tree."

"I've told you," said Uncle Wiggly. "I've told you the answer. I am something like a regular toad, except that I have little cushions, or cups, on the ends of my toes. I have never seen one do it. I'll take a look."

Out to the edge of the woods, near where his baguette stood, went the rabbit gentleman, and there he heard a voice sort of chirping and singing. And he said:

"Oh, dear, I'm stuck fast, and I can't get loose! Oh, I wish I had never come in this tree!"

"I'm sorry if you are in trouble," said Uncle Wiggly, looking about, but seeing no one, "though I am not sorry to see you in one of my trees, for I like the sound of your cheerful song."

"Well, I'm sorry," went on the voice, sadly.

"Why?" asked the bunny.

"Because I am in fast in some sticky gum from this tree."

YOUTH SLAIN BY MEMBER OF 'GUNMAN GANG'

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Alphonso Bergerhofer, alias "Nolan," 22 years of age, employed on a local morning paper, was murdered by Nathan Greenberg, 36, in the Kreshell poolroom, 145 Eddy street, following a quarrel this morning.

According to witnesses, Bergerhofer, who resides at 50 Seventh street, was playing pool with a friend when Greenberg entered. Remarks directed at Bergerhofer's opponent were followed by blows, Greenberg leaving the poolroom and going to a hotel, where he obtained a revolver.

Returning, he accosted Bergerhofer of striking him while he was intoxicated. The men fought again, when suddenly Greenberg threw Bergerhofer back onto a pool table and drew a revolver, firing two shots into Bergerhofer's head.

Greenberg calmly walked out and met Patrolman E. G. McDonald and said:

"You had better get busy. There has been some shooting up there." McDonald grabbed Greenberg, found the empty revolver in his pocket and took him to the central station, where he made a confession.

McDonald and Patrolman Walter Demulso then raided the poolroom, arresting Arthur Kreshell, manager, on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors, sent three boys under age to the juvenile home and arrested seven other inmates on vagrancy charges.

Greenberg said to be a member of a New York "gun gang."

STAUNCH SHIP ARCATA AGAIN TO SAIL SEAS

After forty-two years of service as a coastwise passenger craft, the steamer Arcata is to be remodeled into a four-masted schooner and placed in the coast carrying trade.

The Arcata was built in this port in 1876, and until about two years ago, when she was laid up in Oakland harbor, plied between here and Coos Bay under command of Captain Reed of Alameda.

Later she was sold as junk. Captain Reed, however, refused to see his old command thus dismantled and so he purchased the craft with the intention of again fitting her out as a steamer. An inspection of her boilers and machinery precluding repairs save at large expense, Captain Reed sold the hull to the Western Fuel Company.

It was the intention of the latter company to utilize the hull as a barge, but a few days ago a Seattle firm purchased the craft and will have her remodeled as a four-masted schooner. The work will be done in Oakland.

Dr. R. O. Baldwin to Run for Coroner

Dr. R. O. Baldwin has announced his candidacy for the office of coroner, and petitions are now being circulated in his behalf. He has received the endorsement of the Alameda County Federation and the Taxpayers' League.

"I was one of the first to insist that the office of coroner be held by a physician rather than an undertaker," declares Dr. Baldwin in an announcement. "The conduct of the office during my former incumbency received the highest commendation. I have been actively engaged in the practice of medicine in this city for thirty years. I consented to become a candidate in the belief that this important office should be filled by a physician."

The decision will prohibit the railroad from using water from its property near Tehachapi for its locomotives and to supply the town of Mojave.

Damages to the amount of $1000 also were awarded the plaintiff.

PASTOR SCORES SEMINARIES AS HUN BOOSTERS

BERKELEY, June 26.—Classing some of the doctrines in easter theological seminaries as "rotten with pro-German philosophy," Rev. James Whitcomb Brougher of Los Angeles, speaking before one hundred delegates at the Pacific Coast Baptist conference, at the First Baptist church in this city this morning, urged the appointment of a special committee to probe the teachings of the various seminaries.

throughout the country.

"I am not including German propaganda and German philosophy to take the place of Jesus Christ in many of our institutions," the speaker declared. "In some of our theological seminaries the professors are teaching German philosophy. I do not know what they are. There is no room for German spies in this country. Also there should be no German philosophy in our schools."

Dr. Brounger declared all professors found guilty of including German philosophy in their teachings should be interned during the remainder of the war.

"We should not teach our children to institutions to be taught communist," he asked. "We should not trust our colleges beyond one generation in their teachings."

Dismissing the subject, he declared that doctrinal teachings, he declared, should be included in state educational curriculums. Delegates from several states, including California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona and British Columbia, are attending the various sessions.

A special war-time session opened last night. Rev. Frederick E. Morgan, Dr. J. J. F. Watson, Rev. L. J. Sawyer, Dr. J. Q. A. Henry spoke last night, and Dr. Victor L. Duke and Dr. Leonard W. Riley and

Dr. C. M. Hill spoke this morning. At 3 o'clock tomorrow Sir George Adams Smith, vice-president and chancellor of Aberdeen University, will speak on religious conditions growing out of the war. The conference will close tomorrow evening.

OAKLAND WILL HAVE HISTORY-MAKING FOURTH

Oakland's Fourth of July celebration this year will be one in which history will be made. There will be three phases of the big demonstration, according to reports heard last night at the Merchants' Exchange, which is handling the details of the general celebration. The features will be as follows:

Spectacular parade, exercises, sports. Launching of 31,000 tons of shipping in three ships, one on the estuary, one triple launching, one quadruple launching and a single launching in the harbor.

Patriotic pageant under auspices of playground Department and Oakland Women's Committee of the Councils of National and State Defense.

The general celebration will be the greatest the city has ever seen, according to the plans reported at the meeting of the Exchange. The big parade, a regatta and aquatic sports on the lake, with military and naval units participating, together with League of the Cross Cadets, various military and naval bands, the Grand Army and Spanish War veterans and their auxiliaries, Native Sons, Native Daughters, Sons and Daughters of Washington and other organizations, will be the special day features.

AUDITORIUM FEATURES. There will be patriotic exercises in the Auditorium theater, and at night a great ball in the Auditorium, at which the men in uniform will be special guests of honor.

Races in the old Sixteenth street race track will also be a feature of the afternoon.

The parade will be more than three miles long, and more than 100 persons will march in it. The "Girls of '61," and their special band, the Native Sons' Drum Corps, with delegations from every lodge, Piedmont Parlor Band, employees of the three shipyards, with their bands, the Sons of St. George and the Modern Woodmen, St. Andrews' Lodge with its crack Scottish pipers, a new armored tank from the Best plant, and many floats will be in the various divisions.

At the shipyard will be the feature that will mark an epoch in history, when eight ships will slide to the estuary, adding 31,000 tons to the nation's shipping. The ships will range from 3500 to 12,000 tons each. It will be the greatest tonnage ever launched on the estuary, and the quadruple launching will be the first in the history of shipbuilding. It will be marked with the laying, at once, of five new keels.

Charles M. Schwab, director-general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, will be present to witness these launchings. They have been arranged so that he can attend all the first launchings to occur at 10 in the morning and the last at 8 o'clock at night.

LAUNCHING SCHEDULE. The launchings will be as follows: Quadruplets, from the Alameda branch of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation—The Challenger, 10,400 tons, 10:40 a. m.; the Victorious, 10,400 tons, 11 a. m.; the Defiant, 11,000 tons, 11:30 a. m.; the Defiance, 11,000 tons, 12:30 p. m. Each of these vessels is of 12,000 tons. It is claimed that the Defiance also is a record-breaker, its keel having been laid only forty-four days before the date of launching. Ordinarily it takes fifty-five days, according to shipyard orders, to get an 8,000-ton vessel off the ways.

Triplets from the Moore Shipbuilding Company's yard, which produced the first triple launching: The Yamhill, 7,100 tons, 7:30 p. m.; the Quimby, 7,100 tons, 8:30 p. m.; the Quimby, 7,100 tons, 9:30 p. m. Each of these vessels is of 9,400 tons deadweight capacity. As soon as they are launched the keels of five other vessels will be laid, which is claimed by the Moore people as a world's record.

Between the launchings at the Bethlehem and Moore Companies' yards, the Major Wheeler will be "put overboard" at the plant of the D. J. Hamilton Drydock and Shipbuilding Company. This is a 5,000-ton vessel. The time of the launching will be set to agree with Schwab's arrangements to attend other launchings around San Francisco bay.

COUNCIL IS ASKED. Harry G. Williams, grand marshal of the Fourth of July parade which will be held under the auspices of the Merchants' Exchange committee, today extended an invitation to the city council to participate. The invitation was accepted.

A strong foreign representation will take part in the parade under the auspices of the Sons and Daughters of Washington, Felix Schreiber having been requested by the Merchants' Exchange committee to line up the various international organizations for that occasion.

N. F. Damjanovic, representing the Greek colony, says that over five hundred of his countrymen will be in the parade. The Scandinavians have several organizations that will participate, as well as Italian and Portuguese. The Japanese and Chinese are also patriotically preparing to take part. The Japanese meet tonight to plan for the parade.

Comedy Is Featured On Kinema Screen

Jack Pickford in one of the last pictures he made before joining Uncle Sam's fighting forces as an aviator is the feature attraction at the Kinema today and until Saturday. The picture is the first version of Harry Leon Wilson's clever story "His Majesty, Dunder Bear." The story is that of the young American steno who gets the notion that he is a modern Napoleon and Ramesses the Great.

A regular two-in-one grand man. The notion brings Jack a fortune and an heiress as his wife—but oh, what sport to see Jack turn plain every-day man under the magic spell of a wicked witch! It's a corker of a comedy, even for Pickford. More comedy is afforded by "His Mastered Love," which proved so popular the first part of the week. It is being held over for the rest of the week. A travel with Burton Holmes, together with latest news pictures, complete the program.

At the Kinema next week will be shown the first picture the great war has brought forth which is dedicated to the soul of a nation, its mothers. "Mothers of Liberty" is the title of the attraction. The first of the Douglas natural color photoplays, which just now are the talk of San Francisco, will also be shown on this program, which it is evident will be one of the most attractive in the history of the local playhouse.

The advance seat sale for Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation" will be at the Kinema July 1. Phone reservations will be accepted.

"Road to Happiness"

Hit at Ye Liberty

"The Road to Happiness" with Will Lloyd, Betty Price and Henry Shumer in the principal roles continues to be the attraction at the Liberty Playhouse where it is being offered to capacity houses. Lloyd's work in the role of "Jim Whitman" is one of the best he has ever done this season and Miss Price and Shumer are advantageously cast. The next week will see J. Anthony Smythe back at Ye Liberty. He has been engaged for a brief season to start with Elmer Robinson's famous "Glad" play "The Dawn of a Tomorrow" in which he will have an excellent role, and will have the benefit of an unusually good supporting company. Smythe will be seen in a series of good plays many of them fresh from the East during his engagement.

"The Dawn of a Tomorrow" was substituted for "The Country Boy" because of some difficulty in procuring the manuscript of the latter drama. Smythe will open in the play on Sunday afternoon.

One of the features of Ye Liberty productions continues to be the work of the symphony orchestra under the direction of Fred Creitz.

Revival of Famous Opera Scores Hit

That there is an audience in Oakland for good music and singing is demonstrated at the Bishop this week, where "The Chimes of Normandy" is revived. Keenly alive to the fact that the appeal of the play lay in its music, Manager John H. Jackson reached out into grand opera and seized Miss Alice Bernini, and induced her to make her first appearance in light opera.

The result has been gratifying. The role of Germaine is delightfully rendered. And in addition to this Mrs. Bernini is interpolating "The Bells" from the opera "Lakmé."

Under the leadership of Harry Hamilton Brown is a splendid symphony orchestra.

There is a big element of comedy in the opera. Reginald Travers and William S. Kelsey handle most of this, while Rudolph Radl, Rose Bush, Caroline Gilman, Marie Fisher and Jeanette Condo handle the other roles.

TO MAKE ADDRESS.

Rev. Edward Eggleston will speak at the First Presbyterian church, Twenty-fifth street and Broadway, tonight. He is one of the international war work secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. and will speak on overseas work in which he is engaged.

FARNUM APPEARS IN "TRUE BLUE"

"True Blue," and Farnum, too. That's the bill at the American for four days, commencing with the matinee today. In addition to this, William Farnum production, the second of the government's series, "Britain's Bulwarks," is given. Patriotic musical numbers accompanying the pictures are played by John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra. A thorough digest of the world's news is provided in the American News Weekly.

Red blood and "blue" blood battle for supremacy in "True Blue." Bill Farnum typifies the attitude of the democratic people of the United States in his reply to the question as to whether he shall desert his post as "king of all outdoors" in California to become a titled member of the aristocracy of Europe.

Featured in "Britain's Bulwarks" is the story of the German submarine base, another shows the potentiality of the famous English tanks. Yet another shows the handsome spirit of the allied forces in dealing with captured Hunns. The stand of the Canadians at Vimy Ridge is contained in the picture.

ELINOR GLYNN'S STORY AT T. & D.

The program which starts at the T. & D. today is composed of Elinor Glynn's work "The Reason Why" with Clara Kimball Young in the role of Yvonne, and "The Fall of the Romanoffs," in which Hilger, former confidant of the Czar of Russia, and Nance O'Neill head a notable cast.

"The Reason Why" is the greatest of Elinor Glynn's books, made doubly notable through the fact that because the author is her sister, Lady Duff Gordon, made the nineteen gorgeous gowns worn in the play by Clara Kimball Young.

"The Fall of the Romanoffs" tells the true story of the disruption of the Russian Empire, the recent revolution and the birth of Russian freedom and democracy. Its great strength is in its truth. Every incident, phase and detail of the confidant of Rasputin, told it.

The program this week is further enhanced by Allen Lane, the organist, who plays another of his illustrated successes, "I'd Like to See the Kaiser with a Lily in His Hand."

Admission 10c and 15c every person enters.

BATTALION OF BEAUTY MELTS SOLDIER HEARTS

GREAT LAKES, Ill., June 23.—The American Jackette has arrived. It is the "Battalion of Beauty," sixty-seven strong, that daily maneuvers on the squad ground here. Its personnel is taken from the staff of nurses at the base hospital. They go through various formations of regular drill practice with a precision and nicety that fill the hearts of the 25,000 insignificant blue-jackets (male) with stinging envy.

As for Chief Quartermaster A. M. Angleson, who is drilling the "Beauties," never in his nautical life has he encountered such a stick-to-it bunch of rookies. They will drill, he says, for two hours, "dress right" as if born to it, and hme not be fagged out when it's over.

FEATURES MANY ON PANTAGES BILL

Features are plentiful at Pantages this week. Lulu McCornell is undoubtedly the star as far as laughs are concerned. Miss McCornell has many of the comedy methods of May Irwin.

The sketch "Peacock Alley," is laid in the foyer of a swaggar hotel and is a mixture of comedy and drama. Elwood F. Postwick and Vivian Blackburn head a cast of ten.

Motion picture fans will find much to arouse their enthusiasm in the William S. Hart film, "The Man From the West." Dianna Bonner is a prima donna, while Coleman and Ray present a remarkable act in which a walking doll is shown. Coupons are given to each child and the child holding the lucky number will receive a doll at the Saturday matinee. Gaston Palmer, a burlesque, opens the show.

"Pop" Alhright is back with a new program of songs.

THE YELLOW DOG.

Henry Irving Dodge has written a story about a character which may be met with in nearly every community of the United States that has not yet undergone a purification process. He gave his story the title "The Yellow Dog" (published by Harper & Brothers).

This yellow dog of Mr. Dodge's story is the person who is not in the fight for his country with all his might—or her might, as the case may be. He is the whiner, the backbiter, the sneaking lie-spreader, the coward, the pro-German; any bad American citizen.

When any national enterprise is under way the yellow dogs will be found sneaking around the procession. Liberty bonds, Red Cross drives, draft boards and drafted men, the mothers and fathers of soldiers, have an attraction for them. They can't stay away, for it is here they have their chance to aid the German kaiser. They are of the same breed as those who prated a year ago about German invincibility.

There is a drive on in Oakland this week to secure pledges to buy within the next six months $4,000,000 worth of war savings certificates. The yellow dogs will be yelping. They will insinuate that there is no necessity for the sale of these small securities; they will say they can't understand why the government wants the small subscriptions.

When you can afford this complaint kick him and then turn him over to the police. The government has asked that you invest your savings in war savings certificates. The two billions of dollars which the people of the country will invest in these securities before the end of the year will be a big item in solving the financial problems connected with the war. Therefore, you will be rendering a valuable service in investing, although your purchase may be small. This is an adequate reason for any good citizen.

In addition to this reason, the war savings certificates are incomparably the best means of putting away savings that is offered today. They bear interest at 4 per cent, compounded quarterly; they may be converted into cash at their purchase price, plus interest, at any time the holder desires; the financial strength of the American nation is behind them, and that means the strength of every bank and every dollar's worth of property in the country.

Every citizen is expected to pledge during the present week that he will buy his quota of the certificates. Don't let a yellow dog persuade you from your duty.

NO EAR FOR ANNEXATIONISTS.

Dr. von Kuehlmann's speech before the reichstag Monday was a very mediocre effort, even for the mediocre German minister of foreign affairs. It is a totally worthless contribution to the discussion of war aims and peace prospects, except as one more needless confirmation of the savage spirit which is the basis of Germany's war aims and dealings with other nations. It was the voice of the German annexationists which the reichstag heard. "We wish for the German people and our allies a free, strong, independent existence within the boundaries drawn for use by history," says von Kuehlmann. "We desire overseas possessions corresponding to our greatness and wealth."

This is an old song in Berlin and Vienna. The kaiser and the other Pan-Germanists claim the exclusive right to define the boundaries "history has drawn." They refuse to consider the boundaries history has drawn for other nations and other peoples in proximity to the German state. On the contrary, they assassinate and ravage and destroy other nations having the same inherent right as Germany.

Under this law of the tiger, the wolf and the human savage Belgium has been seized, Serbia overrun, Montenegro occupied, and a large part of Northern France seized. Four hundred thousand square miles of territory has been taken from Russia, while the 50,000,000 inhabitants of the land wait to learn which Hohenzollern or Hapsburg prince shall misgovern them.

Civilized law requires that the rights of all nations, small and great, be recognized: the German doctrine of state is to seize and rule all that its violence may dominate. Until the German doctrine is repudiated and abandoned there can be no honest or honorable conversations between the two groups of belligerents, notwithstanding the views of British ex-Premier Asquith. Peace must come as a condition established by the battlefronts; after such a peace then diplomatic negotiations and understanding.

Dr. von Kuehlmann convicted himself as a treacherous and tricky adversary when he tried to shift the blame of the war to Russia, in the face of the historic record of four years of German statements accusing England as the responsible party. There are two possible reasons for the German government's new tack: It believes that Russia, no longer a government but only a chaotic land of people hopelessly bewildered as to what shall be done now and in the future, may be made the scapegoat to cool the temper of nations strong enough to fight; or it plans to charge Russia with the crime committed by the Teutonic alliance in order to justify the seizure of Russian territory.

Either excuse is unworthy the nation Germany would like the world to acknowledge her to be.

THE ITALIAN VICTORY.

Reports from the Italian battlefront tell of a defeat of the Austro-German armies that is continually increasing in magnitude. Official statements are to the effect that 45,000 prisoners have been taken and that the total casualties suffered by the enemy is in excess of 200,000. This loss on the front between Montello and the mouth of the Piave river above Venice cannot fail to be serious. Of more importance, as indicating the result of the two weeks of fighting, however, is the fact that the Austrians retreated and at some points fled in disorder, leaving their artillery and supplies behind them.

Whether the Italians will start a grand counter offensive against the retreating enemy in the Montello-Piave sector has not been announced, the flooded rivers apparently being a determining factor. But in any event the Austrian armies on this front have been hit such a severe blow that they will not be able to come back in a threatening demonstration for two or three weeks at least. In the meantime the Italians will be able more effectively to meet any attacks on the Trentino or Lake Garda fronts, if, indeed, General Diaz does not decide to start an offensive of his own in these sectors.

The effect of the Italian victory cannot be measured in the number of the enemy captured, killed and wounded and the material taken. It has raised the spirit of the Italian armies and caused a depression among the Austrians which will be an important factor in future fighting. Furthermore, it is a guarantee that there will be no immediate transfer of enemy troops from the Italian front to France, and it may make necessary withdrawal of some of Von Hindenburg's men to help Austria.

A WEAPON AGAINST EXTORTION.

The influence of a free press was illustrated the other day in Los Angeles when The Times published a full account of the proceedings there of a loan shark who three years ago loaned a woman $900 and took a trust deed on her home. In the course of the three years she had paid the amount loaned with lawful interest and $298 commissions and premium, yet so steep was the interest charged—compounding monthly—that the loan shark claimed there was still $700 due him, and under the powers conferred by the trust deed he advertised her home for sale.

The woman had two sons in France with our army, and was unable to raise any more money for the Shylock. The newspaper exposed the transaction and as a result there was present at the sale about 500 of the best citizens of Los Angeles. They filled his office where the sale was advertised to take place and they overflowed the halls and passages. A few of those present contributed $3, which was expended in the purchase of a rope with which it was proposed to hang the loan shark out of his office window. Rather than submit to this inconvenience he made to the woman a deed of the premises, with a receipt in full for all claims, accompanied by his certified check for $298, the amount he had collected from her for "commissions."

A VIRGINIA JUDGE'S VIEWPOINT.

A police judge in Richmond, Va., decided that a man may sell ice or milk or operate a street car or sweep out a Pullman on Sunday, and that a woman can bake biscuits and a telephone girl can respond to a call on Sunday, for these are works of necessity. But he draws the line at allowing tunes other than "Onward Christian Soldier" or "Lord, What a Wretched Land Is This" being played in restaurants on the Lord's day, and if a gentleman wants a "shine 'em up" the same must be bestowed upon his footgear before midnight on Saturday, else the Apollo who strikes the lyre in the hash emporium and the pedoneum illuminator in the hotel lobby will be condemned to the inhospitalities of the county jail.

Virginia judges may be found everywhere.

A decision of the Court of Appeals serves to remind us that the site of the Municipal Auditorium had been in litigation for thirteen years. In the meantime the city had gone ahead and improved it more than a million dollars' worth. The decision was favorable to the public interest, but it would have been a regular shell shock had it been the other way. Not one in a thousand knew that a long-distance gun was trained on the city's show house in that manner.

Our courts, considering them all—county, State and federal—as a composite machine, give out a lot of curious manifestation. We have one court solemnly decreeing that a nine-year-old child shall not have her "bangs" cut while another neglects to review the convictions of draft evaders, seditionists and conspirators, thus postponing the punishment of crime against the peace and safety of the nation.

NOTES and COMMENT

A Sacramento man slashed his wrists, cut his throat and jumped in the river. It may have been realized that at times they feel that way up there, but they are seldom so thorough.

A run on a bank used to be exciting. Depositors who found that they couldn't get their money wanted it right away. Nowadays they know that it will be forthcoming and do not get excited. The flurry as to the Chinese bank in San Francisco was in point.

Emperor Charles of Austria is taking a degree in the Down and Out Lodge. He will soon reach the circle of Crownless Monarchs if things keep on in the direction they are now going.

The Fall of the Bastille is to be celebrated this year with extra enthusiasm. The French people are seeing cause unusual for rejoicing again because of the impending overthrow of a malignant power.

Candidates for Governor shirk their respective hats in the ring without producing the least thud. The attention of the voters is attracted scarcely more than enough to indicate the query, "What, another?"

No bug on the sweet potato vine out Atwater way. The crop last year was 342 carloads, and that promises to be far exceeded this year. Showing how spuds in general are conspiring against the kaiser.

There is some question as to the clemency extended the ex-soldier who was let off from the consequences of beating his bride because of battle-shattered nerves. One of the far-reaching results may be that shell shock will be cited to cover a multitude of offenses.

The Presidential stock is sound in its patriotism. A son of former President Cleveland has just enlisted as a private; a son of former President Taft enlisted a year ago as a private, but has worked his way up to a commission; and the four sons of former President Roosevelt are on the firing line. This makes six sons of Presidents, and it is pointed out that the kaiser has an equal number confronting them.

There was a time not far back when the world was inclined to conclude that the Americans were slow in coming up with help to the allies; but when Lloyd George speaks of the "amazing organization which is bringing American troops to France" it may be concluded that such judgment has been revised.

Spain is having its reward for leaning so palpably toward the Hun. Its ships are being torpedoed indiscriminately along with the rest. We should extend sympathy!

It is a pathetic appeal which the Soviet government of Russia makes to Germany, and all the more so because it will not be heeded. A treaty of peace between the two countries having been signed and ratified several weeks ago, all that Russia asks is that German aggression be brought to an end in obedience to the agreement, but that is not autocracy's idea of a German peace.

What is going on now in western Russia from the Gulf of Finland to the Black Sea is precisely what has taken place in Alsace-Lorraine ever since the conquest of 1871. When Germany makes peace with a beaten foe whose territory it has annexed, it proceeds at once by well-known methods of tyranny to confer the advantages of its superior civilization upon the vanquished.

The continued German aggressions which Russia at peace complains of are in line with this policy. It, as the foreign minister says, the wrongs perpetrated are causing great unrest among the people, the Bolsheviks have themselves to blame. They gave Germany the cheapest of all triumphs, and Germany naturally expects them to pay doubly for their folly.—New York World.

"Help! Stop this!" The figure in the advertisement is rather farther along in human evolution than the one illustrating the particularly savage ape, but it stands for the same meaning. Liberal response to the stamp appeal will do something to hold it in check.

We read with some considerable interest that the wool supply of this country is holding out equal to all demands, and in the same connection that clothing is so scarce in Hunland that a law has been proposed compelling relatives of deceased persons to turn their habiliments over to the military equipment. It is not exactly ghoulish, but it is suggestive of traits and straits.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The San Diego Board of Education "saved its face" in the recent strike of high school pupils by announcing the school year at an end, with commencement exercises, the class play and other gratifying features canceled. The strikers were in fact. It is cause for regret that strike methods should find a place in our schools. "Getting their way" would be the old-fashioned name for it.—Stockton Record.

It is held officially that a squirrel will do damage to the extent of $1.50 per year. According to this estimate the killing of 104,500 squirrels in the recent school contest saved the State a total of $156,750. Temptation is to be congratulated upon the taking of three places in the contest.—Atascadero News.

The Tulare free camping ground for auto tourists covers a block and includes many shade trees. Water is piped in, while the matter of camp sanitation has been amply provided for. Camp tables and seats, a number of brick fireplaces, sand-box for the children and a covered place where motorists may retreat from rain, are features. Firewood is provided at a nominal figure.—Hanford Sentinel.

In our own Modesto very many girls and women are taking the places of men behind even the grocery counter, overcoming their natural prejudice against "koveralls" and wearing them; eager to serve, serving efficiently and in every respect "making good."—Modesto Herald.

A number of Alamedans left for Alaska on the steamer Dawson City. They included J. A. Leonard, George Leonard, J. F. Woodrum, John Woodrum, Victor Mockel, E. H. Cowing, Dr. G. H. Humphries and D. G. Barnes.

Mrs. Reni Chabot entertained extensively at her summer home at St. Helena. Among the visitors were Miss Lucy and Miss Alice Moffitt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cohen, Miss M. C. Sutherland, G. G. Fraser, George P. Curtis, all of this city, were among the visitors at Santa Catalina.

The University Glee Club toured the northern part of the state. The Young Ladies' Guild of St. Andrews' church gave a garden party at the home of Mrs. Westdahl, 960 Peralta street, for the benefit of the funds of the church.

A GRASSY FIELD IN RUSSIA

COBWEBS.

A poet, that feller is, you say? He come along here once And said he'd right admire to stay.

We sized him up a duncie. He did the most peculiar things—it looked that way to us— We swore he traveled 'round in rings and was a crazy cuss.

He knewed the name of all the flow-ers. As, standing like a pole, He'd watch a butterfly for hours. He'd spy a gopher hole.

When others hustled in for grub, the sun a sinking low— He'd stay outside, the lunny dub, and let his supper go. I asked him once, right flat-foot out, what was his little game— Not that I meant to put him out, but just to know the same.

He p'inted to some drops of dew, a' glistenin' on a fern, and he said as he looked down:

"I'm tryin' hard to learn; Just weavin' cobwebs is my game," audaciously he bowed. "I want a carload of the same." His head he kind o' bowed.

Then I druv off and left him there, a-starin' at them drops. Carloads o' cobwebs out o' air! Right there, durn me, I stops.

SMALL CITIES WILL GO OVER TOP IN DRIVE

Alameda county's smaller cities are coming to the fore in the War Savings Stamp drive in a manner that assures they will go over the top but Oakland is not making anywhere near the showing it should according to announcement today from War Savings Stamp headquarters at 1414 Broadway. This fact, however, has in no manner discouraged the army of workers and they are determined that Oakland's reputation as an "Over the Top" city shall be maintained.

According to H. C. Capwell, Alameda county director, the solicitors continue to report that considerable opposition to the stamps is encountered and that further evidence has been obtained to show that this opposition was created by pro-German influence. The solicitors, however, are having fine success in combatting this propaganda, but, nevertheless, according to Director Capwell, the success of the drive is effected by the Hun-created opposition.

Reports were received today from Washington township to the effect that it has gone over the top, exceeding by a substantial figure its quota of $70,000. Centerville, Niles and Newark are the largest cities in this township.

Livermore reported today that it has more than $60,000 of its quota of $78,000 pledged, and is certain to go away over the top before Friday, when the drive ends.

IRVINGTON ON JOB
Town Chairman W. O. Davies of Irvington sends word that that town went over the top Saturday but that the committee is still at work and that the town will roll up a big excess, just as it did in the Third Liberty Loan drive when it was the first town in the county to go over the limit.

With these reports from outside cities coming in the Oakland drive managers are anxious that the people of this city awake at once to a realization of what the call by the President to the nation to rally to the support of War Savings Stamp drive means and to a realization of what the rest of the country will think of this city if it fails to come up to its quota of $40,000.

"These War Savings Stamps are a direct appeal to all of the people regardless of wealth," said Director Capwell, "and consequently upon the success that this drive attains there will be established a more abiding sense of the patriotism of the people that can be established by the success of the Liberty Loan drives. In these a great part of the quota was taken by persons and firms who have more than average means and who hastened to invest in this finest of all securities in the world."

AN IDEAL INVESTMENT
These stamps are just as good a security and in some respects are better as they can be more easily converted into money in case of stress and it is by reason of these conditions that they make an ideal investment for the person of limited means. Really, the stamps make a direct ap-

This Is War Savings Catechism Your Security Safest in World

Question: What is a War Savings Stamp (W. S. S.)?
Answer: It is a written promise of the United States Government to pay $5.00 on the first day of January, 1923.

Q.—What is the cost?
A.—For June, 1918, $4.17. One cent additional for each month up to December, 1918.

Q.—Must I wait until January, 1923, to receive my money?
A.—No. While the government, for patriotic reasons, expects you to hold these stamps until that date, you may cash them at the post-office any month after their purchase for more than you paid for them.

Q.—Give an illustration?
A.—A stamp purchased in June, 1918, for $4.17 may be cashed in July, 1918, for $4.18, in December, 1918, for $4.23, or in June, 1919, for $4.29.

Q.—Are these the only dates upon which they may be cashed?
A.—No. You may cash them at any time after the month in which you purchased, but the longer you hold them the more valuable they become and the more you will receive.

Q.—What rate of interest is paid?
A.—If held until January 1, 1923, 4 per cent compounding every three months.

Q.—Suppose I lose one of these stamps, what happens?
A.—Have them registered at the postoffice without charge. Then if they are burned or lost the government will, upon satisfactory proof and under reasonable conditions, issue new ones to you.

Q.—Is there a possibility that these stamps will drop below par, that is, will they have to be sold for less than I paid?
A.—They can not possibly do so because you can always cash them at the postoffice for more than you paid for them.

Q.—What security have I?
A.—Your security is every acre of land and every dollar of property of the United States. If the government fails, your greenbacks, your bank deposits and all that you possess will become worthless before you can lose on these stamps.

Q.—What advantage have these stamps?
A.—(1) They give you an opportunity to show your patriotism. (2) They offer absolute security. (3) A good rate of interest. (4) You can draw your money at any time before maturity, if you need it, as readily as from a savings bank.

Limit Club Adds Members Buy $1000 in Stamps Each

"Take the Limit" is the battle cry of those who are devoting their efforts to the effect that Oakland may not be branded as a slacker in the War Savings Stamp drive that comes to an end Friday night.

"With a $4,000,000 quota the city cannot expect to make the entire amount unless all those who can afford take the limit of $1000. Also, wherever possible the limit should be taken for each member," says A. S. Lavenson, who is directing the work of creating a "Limit Club."

The names of those who join this Limit Club will be published from day to day.

2 MORE ADDED TO RECORD OF MISSING GIRLS

Mrs. Emma Philpik, 26 years of age, was reported to the police today as missing from her home at 716 Brush street. Her husband has asked that the department assist in locating her.

Myrtle Andersen, a 12-year-old girl of 911 Thirty-seventh street, was reported by her mother as missing last night. It was thought that the girl may have gone to San Francisco.

No trace has been found of the other seven women reported to the police as missing.

LAND COMPANY SUES.
RICHMOND, June 25.—The Harbor Center Land Company has brought suit against George Kolb to force the performance of a contract Kolb entered into to purchase a lot from the company for $1500. It is alleged that Kolb paid 180 and then refused to pay more.

"YOUNGEST GIRL" TO ENTER U. OF C.

Graduating from high school at the age of fifteen, Miss Clementine Webb enters the University of California next year, the youngest student to cross the portals of the state's big institution of learning.

She is the daughter of Edmund J. Webb, of the Pacific Coast Air Products company, 315 Twenty-first street. She graduated from the Durant school when she was 11 years of age, and entered the University of California at Berkeley at the age of 15. Her personality, according to her parents, is natural and undeveloped. She is a musician, and an artist, and has never been tutored in her life. She started in the kindergarten when she was 3 years of age.

With her sister, Isabelle, a year and

"MOSE" NESTOR IN POSTOFFICE; 50 YRS. SERVICE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—The nestor of the postoffice here, C. R. Morris, 1050 Sixtieth street, Oakland, will be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given on the evening of July 1, to celebrate his semi-centennial of service in this city.

According to Assistant Postmaster William Burke, Morris, who is more familiarly known to thousands of San Franciscans as "Mose," entered the service of the San Francisco postoffice July 1, 1868. For forty-eight of the past fifty years he has been superintendent of the box department. He was born in 1846.

half older, she has made a remarkable record in school. The two children are the nieces of Father Charles Webb of Massachusetts.

ALSATIANS BEING FED BY RED CROSS

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Three thousand loyal Alsatians who escaped across the frontier in the first weeks of the war when the battle line swayed back and forth across southern Alsace, are now being fed with American food. They are quartered in nineteen villages safe on the French side of the war zone where American troops are now stationed.

They lost all their property three years ago and what little money they had was soon exhausted. With the increasing cost of living and the inability of their French neighbors to continue to help them, their situation became desperate. The shipment included 13,200 pounds of condensed milk, 13,200 pounds of flour, 2100 pounds of sugar, 6500 pounds of dried peas, 2200 pounds of rice and 2200 pounds of tinned meat.

What Have You Done?

Will you be able to say that you

What Will Your Answer Be?

National War Savings Day June 28th

is the day our government has officially set for us to purchase War Savings Stamps. That's the day we sign up.

On June 28th every man, woman and child in the United States will be called upon to pledge his or her full quota of War Savings Stamp purchases for 1918.

You are expected to pledge the full amount you can afford—no more and no less.

Remember this: War Savings Stamps are the best and safest investment in the world—they pay 4% interest, compounded quarterly.

They can't go below par. You can get back every dollar you put into War Savings Stamps.

The United States is asking hundreds of thousands of men to give their lives to their country. They give their future, their all—you're only asked to lend your money.

Stop and think—the government is spending millions of dollars right here in Oakland. You are thus placed in a position to make more money than you ever made.

Now then—what are you going to do for the United States government?
